Your Panels FOR GNCS

17:00 – 18:30 Friday, February 7th – Zine Time: Plotting Workshop
Roberts Building, 422

Now that we have our characters confirmed, and our committee is hard at work finalising and perfecting their designs... let's start thinking about the story! This workshop is open for everyone and aimed at writers who want to help craft a short story (themed around change) for our zine. We'll also be unveiling some of the WIP pieces of the finalised characters...!

a collaborative zine
workshop

in the first part of this zine, we want to showcase the hard work that went into this project, and some fantastic and creative results - despite the current situation leaving it unfinished as of now
